HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

"QUEEN LIL" IS 77 YEARS OLD TODAY.

Honolulu, H. T., December 2.—Former Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii is celebrating her seventy-seventh birthday today. Although the days of her royalty are now far in the past, she is the leading figure among the natives, and exerts great influence for their betterment. She has selected her tribute to the future mistress of the White House, and it is now on its way to Washington. The wedding gift is a rare Hawaiian scarf, and the ex-queen modestly sent it as a tribute from the daughters of Hawaii. Queen Liliuokalani is a direct descendant of Kamehameha, who formed the native government of the islands long ago. She came into power in 1891, but her attempts to restore an absolute monarchy led to her dethronement in the following year. She then went to the United States and did not return to her native land until 1898, when the islands were annexed to Uncle Sam's dominions.

SIXTY-FOURTH CONGRESS

Preparations Being Made For Long Session—Important Measures To Come Up.

Washington, December 2.—The Republican caucus of the national House of Representatives will be held tonight for the selection of minority officers of the House, and "such other matters" as may be laid before the Republican leaders. It is a foregone conclusion that Hon. James R. Mann, of Illinois, will be chosen again to lead the Republican forces on the floor of the House. While Mann has his rivals for the high honors of the minority, who would like to see some other leader chosen, no serious opposition will be manifested, say Republican leaders who know the sentiment, and the Illinois man will undoubtedly again wield his strong influence to put light in the dark corners of legislation and pick the flaws and weaknesses in the arguments of the Democratic majority leaders and their measures.

It is also expected that, as in the past, the caucus will delegate to Mann authority to assign minority members of the various standing committees of the House. The Democrats delegate this authority to the majority members of the Ways and Means committee, acting as a committee on committees, but the Republicans do not recognize this principle of assignments.

The Democratic caucus will be held on Saturday, on call of Congressman E. W. Saunders, of Virginia, the chairman.

As to the length of the session which will open on Monday, there are varying views. Many members expect to be in Washington until the end of August, but there has been considerable discussion of the possibility of getting through with the legislative program early in June, on account of the national conventions. It is generally agreed that the session will continue until midsummer.

Vice President Marshall and Mrs. Marshall arrived in Washington today after a tour of New England, where the vice president filled speaking engagements. An enormous stack of mail awaits the Vice President.

Congressman Tamm, of Illinois, has announced that he will ask Congress to investigate "traffickers" in war supplies who belong to the Navy League. Colonel Robert M. Thompson, president of the League, promptly accepted the challenge and demanded that he make specific charges.

Congressman William J. Cary, of Wisconsin, says he will introduce a resolution on the opening of Congress for an investigation of the so-called "armor trust" and its relations with government officials.

The attitude of navy officers toward Congress has been voiced by Commander Yates Stirling, who declares "It is because the navy has been the 'barn house' of politicians that the United States finds itself so unprepared on the seas." Commander Stirling in a recent speech in Philadelphia is reported to have assigned this interference as the real reason of the navy's present condition. "Aside from giving

POSITIVE PROOF

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Maysville

Because it's the evidence of a Maysville citizen. Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit. The best proof. Read it: Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front St., Maysville, says: "I attribute kidney trouble to a strain. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging-down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I had not caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and my hands were at times the same way. Finally, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mrs. Luneford said: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely and permanently cured me and I am glad to confirm all I said in their praise before."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Luneford has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

Eggplant is not well enough appreciated. Its natural flavor is peculiar to itself and when it is nicely prepared is a most satisfactory dish. Eggplant, Southern Style.—Cut a plant in slices, pare off and discard the skin; then cut the slices in cubes half an inch in size. Pour boiling water over the plant and cook for about twenty minutes or until tender. Melt two table-spoonsful of butter in a saucepan; add two onions chopped fine, a half a green pepper chopped, stir and cook until the onions are softened and slightly yellow. Add the eggplant drained, a cupful and a half of bread crumbs, salt, paprika and cupful and a half of tomato; stir until hot, turn into a buttered baking dish, cover with well-buttered crumbs and cook in the oven until the crumbs are brown.

GIVE HARNESS BEST OF CARE

When Placed Just Behind Work Team Leather Becomes Brittle and Sometimes Breaks Very Easily.

Many farmers hang their harness in the barn just behind the work team, so that it will be handy when wanted. Of course it is convenient and can be thrown onto the backs of the horses in a few minutes, but there is a considerable loss in hanging the harness at the back end of the stall.

There is a constant passing off of ammonia from the manure behind the harness and this has a bad effect on the leather of the harness. This is the reason why a harness that is allowed to hang in stalls cracks and dries out, becomes brittle and sometimes breaks very easily. One would have to keep the leather thoroughly soaked with oil to prevent injury from the action of the ammonia.

Then there is danger of harness being thrown down into the manure of the stable by the constant passing of the horses from the lot into the stalls. When it is thrown down and tramped into the manure it is filthy to handle and is injured by the action of the damp manure.

The best plan is to have a room in the barn in which to hang the harness. It is even better to hang it in the hallway than over the manure. The room need not be large. Everything in it may easily be kept in proper order, and all repair material should also be located here. This room should be free from mice and rats, for these rodents are destructive to leather.

DIG HOLES BY HORSE POWER

By Use of Soil Auger Farmer Is Enabled to Avoid Much Manual Labor and Twisting of Back.

A soil auger by means of which the farmer may make his horse do the heavy work of post-hole digging, instead of twisting his own arm and back muscles, is here shown. The outfit is simple to operate. The horse pulls a rope through a grooved pulley, this action revolving the auger. All the auger operator has to do is to press downward on the handles. When the auger is full the horse is stopped and the earth shaken out. This is repeated until the hole is of the desired depth. From 35 to 45 feet of rope is pulled out to complete a three-foot hole, nine inches in diameter. In making the first hole, a stake is driven into the ground to fasten the anchor cable to. After the first hole is bored, an anchor post is used, the anchor cable serving to measure the distance from hole to hole, as well as to keep the auger upright during the boring.

Pulling of Rope Revolves Auger.

At one end of the anchor cable is a short piece of chain, the purpose of which is to allow the cable to be quickly shortened should the auger begin to lean.—Popular Mechanics.

Hundreds of Customers

Waiting For You

Do you know that in this town and farming community there are many hundred families who buy a majority of their goods in Maysville, from some merchant or other? Do you know that YOU might just as well have a large percentage of this business and do you know that this business is SPOT CASH because the people HAVE THE MONEY and are NOT AFRAID TO SPEND IT?

Do you know that to get this business you must FIRST REACH THE PEOPLE and let them know WHAT YOU HAVE?

Do you know that there is no other paper published that reaches these people as thoroughly and as effectively and with as tight a grip as THE PUBLIC LEDGER does?

The buyers in this community are an intelligent class of people, and they insist on knowing something about the goods before they part with their money.

Your advertisement in THE LEDGER will appeal to them because it is THEIR OWN PAPER, and because they KNOW that we do not accept questionable advertisements at any price.

The holiday season, a harvest for merchants, is now on and our people will be buying in large quantities.

Because we feel that you are keen on getting a goodly slice of this business a representative of THE LEDGER will take the liberty of calling upon you within a few days, at which time he will illustrate to you more fully the advantages to be derived from placing a portion of your holiday advertising before a class of people who buy liberally and have the money with which to pay.

Very truly yours,

Ledger Publishing Company
